Amid protest, counter-protest

MP launches Hunsur Road straightening works

Mysuru, Nov. 6 (RK&NNN)- Amidst protests and counter protests, the ground-breaking ceremony (guddali puja) for the road straightening works on Hunsur Road near Jaladarshini Guest House was performed by leaders cutting across party lines, here this morning.

Despite the stiff opposition from the residents and environmental groups to the Rs. 12 crore project, the might of the State was in ample evidence as the activists who had gathered in advance to protest against the alleged ill-conceived project were shouted down and forced to withdraw from the protest.

Before the guddali puja was performed to the Rs. 12 crore "Improvement to curve in the black spot of NH 275 in front of Jaladarshini Guest House,' the activists, numbering about 50, sat on chairs holding placards in front of the Jaladarshini Guest House.

As soon as MP Pratap Simha arrived at the spot, the activists started shouting slogans and displaying placards with the slogans like 'Cut speed not trees,' 'Duddu hodayalu sotta dari,' and said that the Government was violating the environmental law by carrying out the project as the road had been declared as 'Heritage Road,' in the MUDA's Master Plan-2031.

Rebutting their arguments, Simha said, "Just as you people are opposing the project, there are many who want the project. Do you understand the pain of the victims' families? There are two of them right here who are supporting the project. Do you have any answers for their cry of anguish?"

Alleged scams at KSOU and UoM

Ex-MLC demands CBI probe

Mysuru, Nov. 6 (PM&VNS)- Former MLC G. Madhusudan

today expressed fear that the century-old University of Mysore (UoM) too may be de-recognised by the University Grants Commission (UGC) like the Karnataka State Open University (KSOU).

Addressing reporters at the Pathrakarthara Bhavan, he alleged that the former UoM VC Prof. K.S. Rangappa had cheated 16,670 students through outreach and online education programmes. Stating that the UoM had received a notice from the UGC seeking explanation with regard to outreach and online programmes, Madhusudan said that the University had failed to reply on previous two occasions. "The credit of closing down the university will go to Prof. Rangappa," he added.

Speaking about KSOU imbroglio, the former MLC said that the hopes of the Open University getting re-recognition from the UGC were bleak and added that the future of 3,25,000 students was hanging in balance.

He alleged that KSOU had not sought permission from UGC before offering technical degrees as a few wanted to make money.

Madhusudan charged that despite him writing a letter, highlighting the irregularities at both the Universities, CM Siddharamaiah was silent on the issue.

He taunted the CM saying, "Was he (Siddharamaiah) mum on the issue just because Rangappa was related to former PM H.D. Deve Gowda?"

Smartphone and Smarting

The Scottish-born scientist, inventor, engineer and innovator, Alexander Graham Bell (1847-1922), credited with patenting the first practical telephone and founding the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in 1885 might have not imagined in his wildest dream that the handy device would be in the hands of almost every human being. His gratification after witnessing its present-day wireless variants such as iPhone and smartphone being the lifeline of every kind of users of the tool of communication globally as well as locally would be boundless if Bell were to be amidst us today. Being a dedicated inventor, he might also have been disillusioned on witnessing its use beyond the convenience of distance communication, particularly its many misuses such as (a) Getting addicted, (b) Using while driving automobiles, in spite of the law prohibiting, (c) Craze of taking 'selfies,' particularly in perilous situations, often resulting in fatalities, not necessarily in that order. The point that any technology not put to use with discretion results in undoing its merits is well-taken. Telephone, er smartphone, is no exception.

Thanks to incorporating the feature of taking photographs, with added features of creating an album of pictures without the hassles of spending on photographic films and visiting photo studios, the smartphone has shown the exit door to the many world-famous companies that ruled the roost worldwide for more than 130 years. Of course, the device dominating the world of Information and Communication, including its role as a window to the internet, needs no elaboration.

In the context of the aforementioned cases of misusing or over-using smartphones resulting often in smarting (causing intense pain), a report in a widely-read Bengaluru edition of English-language daily last week under the headline 'Before you kill that mosquito, record it,' published on its front page, should make everybody sit up and rethink on the notorious image as it were that smartphone has ungrudgingly acquired in recent times. The backdrop to the report cannot be under-valued as its central point, or call it hero, is the vector known for long by its role in spreading diseases such as Malaria and Filaria world over, not to forget two other deadly infections which Mysureans too are aware of, namely Dengue and Chikungunya. We are talking of two types of mosquitoes, namely Aedes albopictus and Aedes aegypti.

To make a long story short, the advisory mentioned in the above report, based on research conducted by Dr. Manu Prakash and team at the Stanford University's Department of Bioengineering is that next time you see a mosquito, on your arm, or buzzing above your head, exercise restraint and take its picture using your smartphone. Researchers have chalked out plans heading for abatement of the mosquito menace and thus save humans from smarting and death.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

I am happy when old friends come calling and at chance encounters with familiar faces in unexpected places. We pick up where we have left off or never left off, intercepting one another mid-sentence. All this brings back the verve of old days, the spring in my step and the bounce in my being. I am happy when I hear the songs grown old along with me: "You will never grow old while there is love in your heart/Time may silver your golden hair but you will never grow old." I laugh at the memory of all the pranks we played and all the old jokes come back to jog my rusting sense of humour. I am happy when I am able to remember the names of favourite characters in favourite books, lines of poetry oft quoted and then forgotten. How they all rise up in memory like faithful friends! There was a time when I believed in my own omniscience, now I am full of self-doubt and I can no longer trust myself. And, of course, I am happy when I see my words in print and to know that some actually read them and are gracious enough to write back to me.

Jilted bride sues groom!

Bangkok: A Thai woman who got stood up at the altar by her boyfriend of six years is now suing him for moral and financial damages. In his defence, the man said he never showed up at his own wedding because he couldn't afford to pay the dowry set by her family.

26-year-old Boonyang Sawatdee and his long-time girlfriend, Arunee Jaengkrachang, 24, were supposed to get married in the bride's home village of Khao Din, Thailand's Kabin Buri district, on Oct. 22, but the groom never showed up. The bride's family later learned that Boonyang couldn't afford to pay Arunee, even though the two families had previously agreed that the dowry was to be set at 200,000 Baht ($6,025) in cash and five-baht weight of gold. Arunee's family claim that they paid over 100,000 baht for the wedding party and still owed the caterer around 22,000 baht for the food, so they have filed a complaint against Boonyang Sawatdee and his family, and have already contacted a lawyer to sue him for damages.

Malawi Vampire Vs Vampire Hunters

Lilongwe: Mass hysteria has broken out in the small southeast African nation of Malawi, where rumours of real-life blood-sucking vampires have become so widespread that groups of vigilante vampire hunters resort to murder to protect their communities.

At least 9 suspected vampires have been brutally murdered in Malawi since mid-September, including two men in the country's second-largest city, Blantyre. According to Police, both were stoned, and one was set on fire. Police have arrested over 140 people in connection with a vigilante group that has been targeting individuals accused of being vampires and sucking the blood of the innocents. Leaders in southern Malawi believe that the vampire rumours originated in neighbouring Mozambique, where the fear of real-life vampires has led to violence in the past. The UN also believes that the vampire hysteria recently spread across the Mozambique-Malawi border, into the districts of Mulanje and Phalombe.

CII holds single window agency meeting

Mysuru, Nov. 6 - A single window agency meeting was recently hosted by CII at Automotive Axles Limited in city. Some of the issues that were discussed include:

Women Entrepreneurs Park: The State Government intends to set up a Women Entrepreneurs Park at Thandya Industrial Area to facilitate Entrepreneurship Development. In this regard, KIADB Development Officer has initiated action by preparing a detailed project report for the layout plan.

Housing layouts at Belagola Industrial Area: H. Ramakrishne Gowda, Joint Director, District Industry Centre (DIC), informed the members that there was no canal running in the industrial area and the same has been communicated to the Tahsildar and KIADB.

Dr. N. Muthukumar, President, Automotive Axles, stressed on the need for maintaining a good relationship between industrial areas and housing layouts. He suggested that the area be called a Buffer Zone and be protected under green belt.

Muthukumar also briefed the meeting on a major event to be organised by QCFI - NCQC - 2017 at JSS Science & Technology University, Mysuru. Around 9,000 delegates are expected to take part in the event with the theme 'zero defect' from 'zero effect' which eventually aligns with 'Make in India' initiative.

The meeting also discussed cluster development programme for allocation of land at Hebbal Industrial Area. Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep instructed Nanjangud Tahsildar to take action on the government land under the jurisdiction of KIADB to be transferred from Revenue Department to KIADB.

A request was also placed to set up a Fire Station in Kadakola Industrial Area in the government allotted land of 1.5 acres to be transferred to the respective department.

Really...?

- Opening an umbrella indoors brings bad luck to the person. The origins of this superstition are not agreed upon totally, but the majority believe that it can be traced back to the early Egyptian era. Egyptians believed that opening umbrellas indoors would offend the Sun God. Another theory points out that this superstition started upon the introduction of metal-spoked umbrellas.

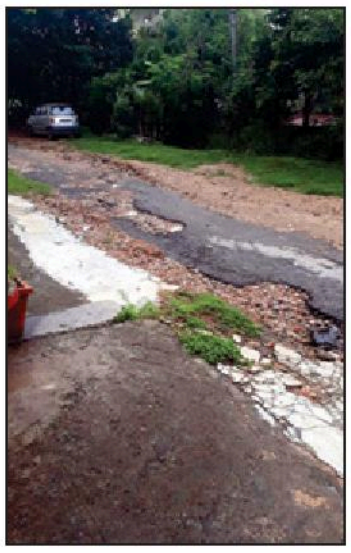
Road left unfixed for 2 years after laying new drainage pipe !



Sir,

With every rain that the city receives, the road on 11th Main, Hebbal 1st Stage, becomes a bigger pile of rocks. This road was dug up two years ago for laying new drainage pipes and left unfixed for fellow Mysureans to suffer. In spite of requesting the authorities concerned multiple times to have this fixed, every effort has been taken to NOT fix it.

This road connects to a temple and an elementary school apart from an apartment with 32 families and other individual houses. Such bad roads cause trouble for all including tiny-tots going to school and our elderly visiting the temple.

We wonder, "While road and house tax is collected in full, when are we going to have these roads connecting to our houses?"

We hope the authorities concerned will take some action at the earliest to re-lay the roads.

Sir,

This is with reference to my letter dated 14th February 2017 "Bogadi road badly in need of a divider." I am a regular commuter on Bogadi road and surprisingly via Kukkarahalli Kere to University signal light stretch, there is no divider. As a result, vehicles coming from the opposite direction move at a rattling speed, dangerously towards right. This in turn may lead to fatal accidents.

Also a stretch of this road is in poor condition with lots of pits and potholes. I don't know what the authorities concerned are doing. Are they sleeping over this serious matter?

Nowadays even I don't find the interceptor being stationed at this junction to control the traffic movement. Of course, most of the time the Traffic Police are busy near the signal light collecting fines from scooterists.

In order to avert these accidents, it is high time the Traffic Police department provides a divider on the stretch between Kukkarahalli Lake Circle and University signal light at the earliest and also station the interceptor at least from 9 am to 9 pm on all working days to penalise the traffic offenders.

I also request the authorities concerned to extend this divider throughout Bogadi road up to Ring Road, of course, with a way (gap) leading to the main entrance of Mysore University (where Kuvempu's statue is erected) for easy movement of University staff and students during working hours. This in turn would definitely ease traffic congestion and avoid serious accidents.

Hubballi, Nov.6- In a show of strength demanding Constitutional recognition for Lingayats as an independent religion, the Lingayat Mega Convention held at Nehru Stadium in Hubballi yesterday urged Chief Minister Siddharamaiah to recommend the same to the Union Government at the earliest.

Lingayat Seers, who addressed the gathering, demanded that the State Government take a proper decision by December end to send a recommendation to the Union Government to accord a separate religion tag to Lingayats.

Explaining the importance of getting a separate religion tag for Lingayats, the Seers said that the Government should not make any further delay in sending recommendation to the centre.

JD(S) MLC Basavaraj Horatti said that the Veerashaiva Mahasabha should join hands with them under single umbrella of Lingayat to exert pressure on the Government for minority tag.

BJP Lingayat leaders give rally a miss

Prominent Lingayat leaders from the BJP, such as Opposition Leader Jagadish Shettar, MLA Arvind Bellad and others did not attend the rally.

Moorusavira Mutt Seer Gurusiddaraja Yogindraswamiji, who expressed his unhappiness over rally, did not turn up.

Maintaining that there is no politics involved in separating Lingayats from Veerashaiva, Horatti said that it was very essential for Veerashiva leaders to join hands with Lingayats to uplift the downtrodden people with in the community.

Water Resources Minister M.B. Patil said that the struggle for a separate religion tag was not new. He called upon Lingayats who are attached to BJP and RSS to come out and support the demand for separate religion tag for Lingayats.

Mines & Geology Minister Vinay Kullkarni said that the agitation is not against anyone and Lingayats are not against Jangamas. He asked the Seers of all Virakta Mutts to join the struggle before the next rally being planned at Bengaluru in December end or January first week or vacate their Mutts.

Retired IAS Officer S.M. Jamadar said that an alternative organisation of Lingayats would be formed if Akhila Baharata Veerashaiva Mahasabha fails to change its stance.

Later, a rally was taken out from Nehru Stadium to Rani Chennamma Circle, where the statue of Chennamma was garlanded.

Seer abuses Veerashaiva Mutts and community members

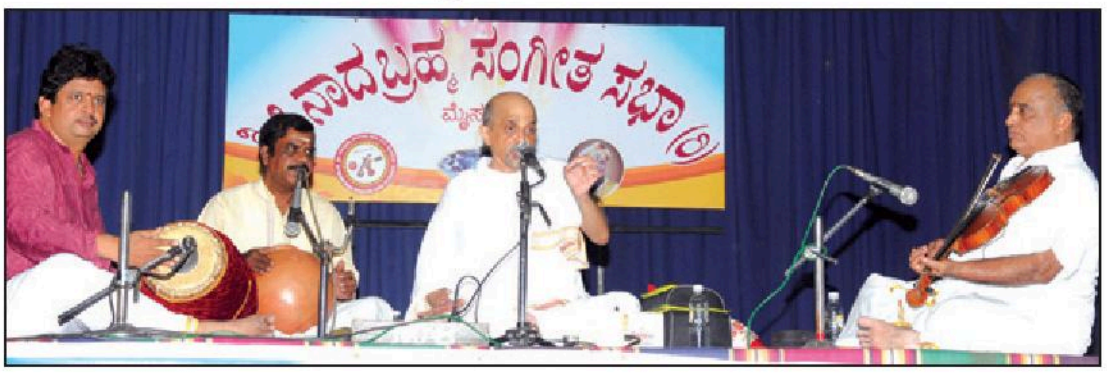
The rally saw a few Seers using unparliamentary words against some Seers of Veerashaiva Mutts and community members.

Sri Basavajaya Mrutyunjaya Swamiji of Koodalasangama Panchamasali Mutt said that Veerashaivas are born to five fathers, while Lingayats are born to one father. "Veerashaivas follow five Peethas, hence they are born to five fathers. However, Lingayats follow Basavanna and hence they are born to one father," he said.

Even as Veerashaivas staged protests over the Seer's remark, Basavajaya Mrutyunjaya Swamiji last evening tried to pacify the agitating Veerashaivas, saying that his words were misinterpreted.

"My intention was not to hurt anybody. The speech and words were projected in a different manner. Lingayats have one Guru and Veerashaivas have five Gurus was the meaning behind the statement," he said.

Reports on me contesting Assembly polls are false: Dr. Vidyabhushana



Dr. Vidyabhushana, accompanied by Vid. H.L. Shivashankaraswamy on mridanga, Vid. M.R. Manjunath on ghata and Vid. H.K. Narasimhamurthy on violin, presenting a vocal concert at Sri Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha in city last evening.

Mysuru, Nov. 6 (YDS&DM)- Dr. Vidyabhushana, noted classical singer and former Seer of Kukke Subramanya Mutt, has clarified that speculations on his contesting from Chamundeshwari Assembly segment as a BJP candidate was totally false.

He made this clarification while taking part in the Karnatak Classical vocal recital programme organised by D. Ramabai Charitable Trust at Sri Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha on JLB Road here yesterday.

Speaking at the event, Ramabai Charitable Trust's Jayaram Patel said that he was shocked to read reports in a section of the Press that Dr. Vidyabhushana will be contesting the 2018 Assembly polls from Chamundeshwari constituency, from where Siddharamaiah would contest. Later, he spoke to Dr. Vidyabhushana, who said that the reports were baseless and he was not interested in politics.

Hailing Dr. Vidyabhushana for his simplicity and modest lifestyle, he said that the singer, through his recitation of Purandaradasa and Kanakadasa Keertanas, had become a household name. Stating that Ramabai Charitable Trust has been promoting arts, culture, literature, etc., Jayaram Patel said that the Trust Founder Jagannath Shenoy has instituted awards in memory of his parents — Ramabai and Govind Rao.

Dr. Vidyabhushana, who presented a concert, was accompanied by Vid. H.K. Narasimhamurthy on violin, Vid. H.L. Shivashankaraswamy on mridanga and Vid. M.R. Manjunath on ghata.

Mysuru, Nov.6 (SBD&DM)- Thousands of Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangha (RSS) workers yesterday took out a full dress parade (Patha Sanchalana) in the city amidst tight Policesecurity.

The parade had been planned as part of 'Sanghik' (uniting RSS wings in the city). The RSS activists who used to wear khaki shorts earlier, changed to pants in October last year.

As a precautionary measure, City Police Commissioner Dr. A. Subrahmanyeswara Rao clamped prohibitory orders in N.R. Assembly segment where the parade was to take place, besides denying permission to the parade.

This prompted the Sangha leaders to change their plans and come up with a different route plan. As per the changed plan, the parade was launched from Rajendranagar School and passed through Shankar Nursing Home, Kurimandi Circle, Karumariyamma Temple, Amba Bhavani Circle, Shivaji Road, Paras Jain School, DVN Circle, Rajendranagar Main Road and Rajendranagar Second Cross, before reaching Rajendra Nagar 7th Cross Park, the culmination point.

Slogans such as 'Bharat Mata Ki Jai' and 'Vande Mataram' rented the air as the parade passed through. Addressing the gathering, RSS Veteran Kalladka Prabhakar Bhat said that only those who love their motherland, culture and great personalities, are the real citizens of the country.

Hailing former President late APJ Abdul Kalam as a great stalwart of the country, he said that Kalam had a vision that India should become a 'super power.'

Recalling the sacrifices made by great personalities like Swami Vivekananda, Basavanna, Shivaji, Rani Chennamma, Onake Obavva etc., Bhat said it was important to follow the Vachanas of 12th century social reformer Basavanna.

Explaining the objectives of RSS, he said that the word Hindu is a symbol of nationalism.

Pointing out that the RSS was trying to awaken the society on the threats from Pakistan and other hostile countries, he called upon the people to dedicate at least one hour a day for doing service to the country.

RSS Mysuru Division Sanghachalak Dr. Vaman Rao Bapat, City Sanghachalak Vasudev Bhat, Corporators B.M. Nataraj and M.V. Ramprasad, BJP leaders L. Nagendra, M.V. Ravishankar, Mahadevaswamy, Arun Kumar Gowda, M.K. Premkumar and a host of other local leaders were present.

State JD(S) Chief to sound poll bugle in Chamundeshwari segment tomorrow

Kumaraswamy G.T. Devegowda

Mysuru, Nov. 6 - The JD(S) will launch its campaign for the 2018 Assembly polls from Chamundeshwari Assembly segment in city tomorrow (Nov.7).

JD(S) State President and former CM H.D. Kumaraswamy will kick off the campaign titled 'Kumara Parva' after performing puja at Chamundeshwari Temple atop Chamundi Hill and Uttanahalli Jvalamukhi Tripura Sundari Amma Temple tomorrow.

The JD(S), which had taken on Siddharamaiah in an epic electoral battle during the by-election from Chamundeshwari Assembly segment in 2006, selected the Chamundeshwari segment to launch its election campaign this time, in the light of CM Siddharamaiah's announcement that he would contest the 2018 Assembly polls from Chamundeshwari.

Kumaraswamy will be travelling in a customised bus, costing around Rs.1 crore, during the campaign. As a prelude to the launch of the Nov. 7 campaign, Chamundeshwari JD(S) MLA G.T. Devegowda (GTD) took out a bike rally in city yesterday.

Speaking to press persons on the occasion, GTD expressed confidence that the people of the State will bring JD(S) back to power. Taking potshots at Siddharamaiah's recent statement that Modi was scared of him (Siddu), GTD sarcastically said that the CM was targeting the PM's post in 2019 Lok Sabha polls and thus he (CM) had made the remark targeting Modi.

Reiterating that the CM had set his eyes on the PM's post as the Congress High Command had become very weak, the JD(S) MLA claimed that AICC Vice-President Rahul Gandhi had no strength to have control over Siddharamaiah who has taken full command of the Congress in Karnataka.

HDK buys hi-tech caravan for campaigning

Bengaluru, Nov.6 - Former CM and JD(S) State President H.D. Kumaraswamy will use a high-tech customised luxury caravan worth Rs. 1 crore while campaigning for the upcoming State Assembly polls.

Kumaraswamy, 57, who underwent a heart surgery recently, will hit the campaign trail during mid-November. The campaign named 'Kumara Parva' will cover 50 out of the 224 Assembly constituencies.

But it is not only Kumaraswamy that the bus will accommodate during the campaign trail, but his personal yoga instructor, a doctor and cook as well.

JD(S) white and green luxury coach bus named 'Karnataka Vikasa Vahini' is an air-conditioned bus with bedroom, bathroom, kitchenette, Mini Conference Hall and internet connection.

The luxury coach, built on the Ashok Leyland bus chassis, has a podium with a hydraulic lift, fitted with a modern public address system to enable Kumaraswamy to address public meetings.

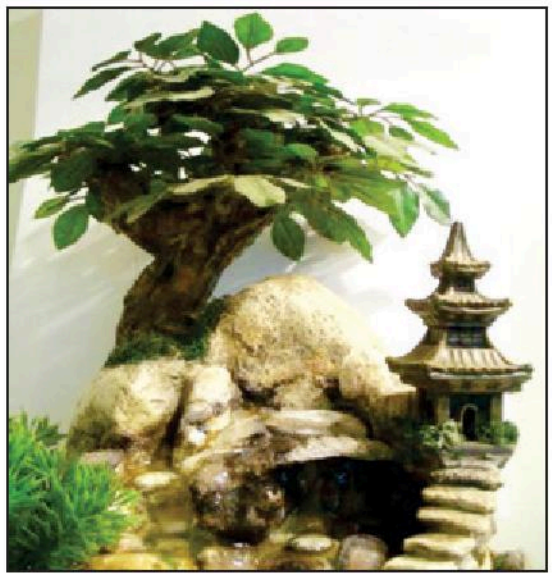
Enhance happiness



In the science of Feng Shui everything is energy, and we are in a constant energy exchange with everything around us and in the environment. Thus, it is very important to create a Feng Shui home that has a happy and healthy energy circulating in and around the home.

At first glance, Feng Shui may seem complex. However, Feng Shui philosophy is filled with common sense practices and simple techniques for creating a more prosperous, healthy and happy life. In other words, Feng Shui is a method for creating balance and tranquillity in a person's life through techniques that bring positive energy to living spaces.

A flow of positive energy (Chi) in the home will help create a balanced, peaceful and happy environment. Chi should move around in a slow, meandering and steady flow. There are many ways to achieve such flow through furniture layout, art, décor and interior design. Aligning furniture's or placing beautiful objects in a position that invites energy to linger would be a simple solution. A good way to ensure that your energy is being affected positively is to love everything you surround yourself with. Look at your belongings and observe your response. Objects, art or furniture that make us feel irritated, depressed or anxious zap our energy each time we see them. Hence a proper choice of décor, furniture and layout can bring in happy energies.

Through Feng Shui when you transform the energy of your home and live in a healthy and happy Feng Shui home, the energy of the occupants will also transform and become healthy and happy. A harmonious home is a home that can accommodate a variety of activities and a variety of people without losing its healing essence. Creating a home with such power takes time. Just as it is essential to our health that the oxygen we breathe is pure and flows throughout our bodies, so too it is vital to the health of our homes that the energy is clean and circulates freely.

The more you know about the anatomy of your space Feng Shui, the more you can achieve in terms of establishing a healthy and nourishing relationship with your home. A harmonious home is a home that can accommodate a variety of activities and a variety of people without losing its healing essence. Creating a home with such power takes time.

• Clean up the passageways if they appear to be are blocked by clutter or due to bad design. As such, passageways create a feeling of being stuck in our lives, unable to advance in our careers or to even get out of our own way.

• Identifying the geographic centre of your home is the home's "heart." This is a good place to add fresh, green plants and stone objects such as statues.

• If your front door faces your back door, the energy will race from one through to the other and won't benefit you at all. Try placing a small screen somewhere in between to redirect the energy.

Career Development Workshop for Govt. School SSLC students

Mysuru, Nov.6- The Konkani Christian Association (KCA), Mysuru, had organised a day-long Career Development workshop for SSLC students of Government High School in the surrounding areas of Vijayanagar at Konkan Bhavan in Vijayanagar, here on Oct.26. The programme was inaugurated by Corporator Mahadevappa and Association President Vincent Crasto along with student representatives, teachers and KCA officials.

The objective of the workshop was to help the students face the forthcoming examination without fear, and imparting them the importance of striving hard to realise their dreams. They were guided on how to prepare themselves for the examinations and were given an insight into the various courses and professions that they could venture into.

The workshop was conducted by a team of excellent faculty from 'Focus Academy' of Mysuru.

About 450 students from different schools participated.

IOV celebrates Valuers Day

Mysuru, Nov.6- The Institution Of Valuers (IOV), Mysuru branch, had organised a programme at a private hotel in city recently to mark Valuers Day.

On the occasion, he feted the senior Valuer R.B. Dayananda Hassan, B.S. Somashekar, former Chairman, IOV, T.V. Chandra, Chairman and Council Member, IOV, with a memento.

Thilak Raj Pahwa, addressing the gathering, said that there is a close relationship between Bankers and Valuers Valuation, which is an important tool to sanction the loans for different purposes. He added that valuers should be honest and not bow to any pressure.

Pratibha Puraskar was awarded to the merit students of IOV Mysuru family members, who secured more than 80% in SSLC, PUC and degree exams.

The guest of honour Rajayogini B.K. Yogeshwari, Co-ordinator, Brahmakumaris, addressed the awardees and asked them to respect elders and also concentrate on studies.

She advised them to practice meditation for at least 30 minutes a day which would reflect positive thoughts and remove the negative ones.

K.V. Sreenivasan gave a lecture on 'Future of Indian Valuation Profession to the Changing Scenario.' He highlighted certain rules that had to be followed to become registered Valuers according to Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA).

IOV Secretary R. Ravi proposed a vote of thanks.

Mysuru, Nov.6 (NNN)- There was a time when women stage artistes were looked down with contempt. However, that view has changed in recent times, said renowned Theatre Director and Padmashree B. Jayashree.

She was speaking at the 62nd Kannada Rajyotsava celebrations organised by Book Clubs 2015 at Mahajana PU College's Swami Vivekananda auditorium, here yesterday and said that whenever anyone tried to put down the women stage artistes, she would throw a challenge at them, saying, "Come and perform on the stage if you have the guts and then talk about us."

She recalled the times when her grandfather Gubbi Veeranna used to put up magical shows like Samudra Manthana, where there was no technology involved but still people would create the churning effects of the hills being pulled apart, and the sea waves parting by using pulleys and levers.

"I was not at all surprised when I watched a Broadway show in New York and the technology used in the theatre there, as my grandfather had achieved much more with bare human hands and imagination," she said.

She was reacting to the readings from her autobiography titled 'Kanna Muchhe Kade Gude,' by journalist Preethi Nagaraj and went down the memory lane when she was studying in National School of Drama (NSD) at Delhi and how the news of her grandfather passing away reached her. "I did not know Hindi or English, when Ebrahim Al Kazi, the Director of NSD, gently broke the news to me in English, which I could not follow. It was then that my fellow actors of the likes of Naseeruddin Shah rallied around me to face the tough times," she recalled.

Meera Nayak, this year's State Rajyotsava awardee, who was felicitated on the occasion, said, "Once we are born all of us try to gain some knowledge or the other. Everyone has a responsibility to share this knowledge and experience with the society. Hence, I feel that honouring someone for serving the society is not very important as there are a lot more things to do."

Jayashree shared a lighter moment on the stage between the two of them: "I asked Meera who has achieved much more than what I have, whether I could kiss her on the cheeks. She agreed and after I kissed her, she kissed me back and said, 'This is the first time in my life I have been kissed by a woman,'" sending the audience into peals of laughter.

Preethi Nagaraj, during her reading of the book, reminisced how Jayashree was reluctant to be written about and how she still felt about lack of education and the complex it gave her because of this lacuna.

Founder Chairperson of Book Clubs 2015 Shubha Sanjay Urs welcomed. Yogini Nijaguna proposed a vote of thanks. Uma Parthanath compered the programme.

Wild tigress spotted near Jungle Lodges

Two Dasara elephants roped in to assist forest staff in combing operation

Movement of the tigress captured through a Camera Trap in the wee hours of yesterday.

One of the two Dasara elephants brought in to assist the Forest Department staff.

Forest Department officials checking the fence from where the tigress is suspected to have entered.

H.D. Kote, Nov. 6 (Manju&KS) - The Forest Department officials are making all efforts to trace and capture the wild tigress that was spotted near Karapura Kabini River Lodge (Jungle Lodges) coming under Nagarahole Wildlife Sanctuary.

The 'Operation Tiger,' which began yesterday, continued today also with the Forest Department summoning Dasara elephants Abhimanyu and Arjuna to assist them in the combing operation.

The wild tigress spotted on Friday created tension among the residents of Karapura and tourists staying in the lodge forcing them to stay indoors. Forest officials, numbering about 50, led by an ACF, RFO and staff, who inspected the spot yesterday, confirmed the presence of the tigress and alerted the higher officials. The wild cat is said to have moved besides the generator room of the lodge as pug marks were found there.

An officer said that they have installed camera traps at various places to help them capture the movement of the tigress which would help them in tracing and finally capturing it.

Yesterday morning at 2.45, the camera traps have captured the movements of the tigress and the Forest Department officials said that the tigress had strayed out of the forest accidentally.

Sources said that the Department officials have made all preparations to capture the tigress and were waiting for permission from the National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) to tranquillise the animal.

The presence of the tigress has caused anxiety among the tourists numbering about 60 who are staying in the lodge. The operation to capture the wild feline was underway when we went to the press.

Young swimmers aim to make it big

Priyanshu Nina Reyan Gada

Mysuru, Nov.6 (SV)- The second day of the National Inter-Club Swimming Championship saw many young swimmers taking part in the competition being held at Chamundi Vihar Sports Complex Swimming Pool here. The youngsters were filled with enthusiasm and zeal, who dream of representing the nation one day.

Star of Mysore met three budding swimmers, who plan to make swimming as their career.

Priyanshu from Haryana, an 8th std student belonging to AIM Sports Club, has bagged Gold medals in 50mts Butterfly stroke and 50mts Backstroke events. He is very passionate about swimming and adds that he will work hard to make it his career. He said, "This is my first experience in the National Inter-Club Swimming Championship and I'm really enjoying it; I would like to participate in more events in future, as swimming through water excites me."

Nina Venkatesh, a 6th std student, who is an active member of the Dolphin Aquatics Club from Bengaluru, on being asked why she likes swimming, said, "I love challenges and swimming is very challenging and has an element of fun equally; I developed an interest towards it as I was put into swimming classes at the age of 2."

She credited her club for the professional training that they provide in nurturing young swimmers. She also aims to make swimming an essential part of her life and would love to scale heights in the future.

Nihar Ameen, CEO of Dolphins Aquatics said that his club is blessed to have one of the best facilities and also trains Olympians. Asian Games medallists Sandeep Sejwal and Virdhawal Khade also belong to this club.

Reyan Gada, a 7th std. student from Maharashtra is very passionate about swimming as he keeps saying that he loves water and thus he loves swimming repeatedly. He belongs to the Glenmark Club from Mumbai. He said, "I have been given the best training at my club, as I have foreign coaches, state-of-the-art equipment, in-house gym, nutrition, etc." He adds that training happens at two places — one in Dadar and the other in Dharavi." He wasn't let down by the fact that he had not secured any prizes, as he aimed to learn from this tournament in his overall development as a swimmer. Young swimmers such as these have taken the competitiveness of swimming to a higher level. The swimming clubs in India have clearly come out with a mission to train young kids in professional swimming. It wouldn't be a surprise, if such clubs produce some talented swimmers for India in the near future.

'Dream Big' is the need of the hour at a very young age, and these kids will leave no stone unturned to make it to a bigger stage. The three day event, which saw participants from various parts of the country, will conclude tomorrow.

MP launches Hunsur Road works

The activists retorted that the accidents that the MP was talking about occurred either early in the morning around 5 or late in the nights and it was due to rash, negligent and in some cases drunken driving that people had lost their lives and not because of the curve in the road.

However, their arguments did not cut any ice as a few others who supported the project started raising slogans against the activists and even became aggressive.

The Police also asked the activists to move away as they were not given permission to sit inside Jaladarshini Guest House but to stand on the opposite side of the road and hold a silent protest. Instead, they were trying to create a ruckus, which would not be allowed.

The activists, realising that they could not oppose the might of the law, quietly withdrew from the protest. However, one of the protesters, Maj. Gen. S.G. Vombatkere said that they would fight in the court of law by filing a Public Interest Litigation in the High Court.

'Lives more important than trees'

Mysuru, Nov.6-District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa arrived to perform guddali puja to the road straightening work, the name of which is "Improvement to curve in the black spot of NH 275 in Mysore City limit in front of Jaladarshini Guest House," after the protesters had left the spot.

Addressing media persons, he said, "The Bengaluru-Mysuru-Bantwal Highway was developed by the NDA Government. The Karnataka Road Development Corporation (KRDC) had developed the project during the UPA and since it was converted into a six lane highway, the National Highway Authority of India was also involved in it."

He said that funds were released from Central Road Fund (CRF). "If we cut one tree we will plant ten trees in its place. We have as much concern about the environment as the people who are opposing the project. The lives of the people are equally important. The work will begin from tomorrow and will be completed by December or January," Dr. Mahadevappa said.

MP Pratap Simha said, "According to the statistics available 11 persons have died in accidents on this stretch, which includes a CFTRI Scientist and a Doctor. It is declared as a 'Black Spot.' Just as trees are important, lives are also important. Rs. 12 crore is released for the project by the Centre. We have planted 6,000 trees all along the Ring Road. The victims' families and MLA Vasu also said that the project was important to save the lives of the people. Just because a few oppose the project we cannot listen to them and stop it."

Breakup

The cost of the road work of 850.00-metre 6-lane (2X10.50 mts and median) is Rs. 462.00 lakh, widening of RCC Hume Pipe culvert at 215.300 km and construction of drain, 1,600 mts Rs. 171 lakh, reconstruction of ornamental compound wall (total of 540 mts) Rs. 95 lakh, construction of retaining wall 300 mts length, 6.50 mts height and "W" metal beam crash barrier 100 mts Rs. 212 lakh, for shifting 650 mts major water supply pipe line at 25,000/mts Rs. 162.50 lakh, for electrical shifting, street lightings and solar blinking lights, cost of afforestation, miscellaneous and rounding off Rs. 55 lakh and miscellaneous (SQM, QC charge) Rs. 42.50 lakh totalling to Rs, 1,200 lakh or Rs. 12 crore.

Colourful procession marks Kanakadasa Jayanti

Mysuru, Nov. 6 (RKB&US)- A colourful procession was taken out in city this morning as part of Kanakadasa Jayanti celebrations organised jointly by the District Administration, Department of Kannada and Culture and the Jayanthotsava Samithi.

The chariot was profusely decorated with flowers. Five Mounted Police personnel in front and behind the chariot provided a good appearance and the entire procession was scrupulously designed on the lines of Dasara procession.

In tow were about 20 folk troupes performing various folk dances in tune with rhythmic beating of drums. The added attraction was five tableaux featuring Alambadi Junjegowda, the person behind the construction of the temple at M.M. Hills, social reformer Basavanna, writers like Kuvempu, freedom fighters Sangolli Rayanna, Kittur Rani Chennamma, Kanakadasa's life and finally a special tableau portraying the social schemes of the present State Government.

About 1,000 people participated in the procession with school children playing the band.

The procession passed through K.R. Circle, Sayyaji Rao Road, Chamaraja Double Road, Devaraj Urs Road and Vinoba Road before culminating at Kalamandira, where a stage programme was held.

Earlier, MLA M.K. Somashekar offered puja to Nandi Kambha and showered flower petals to the portrait of Kanakadasa to inaugurate the procession.

Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep, MLA G.T. Devegowda, Corporators Nandeesh Preetham, Mahadevappa and former Mayors T.B. Chikkanna and Modamani and others were present. The Jayanthotsava samithi has organised a play 'Bhakta Kanakadasa' on Nov. 8 at 6.30 pm at Jaganmohan Palace here to be enacted by Manasavadya and troupe.

Work for implementation of Anila Bhagya: Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa

Mysuru, Nov. 6- Take all measures to successfully implement 'Mukhyamanthri Anila Bhagya' scheme to provide LPG connections to all families in the district, said District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa here yesterday.

Addressing a meeting with the district-level officials at Government Guest House, Mahadevappa said that those having Aadyatha and Anthyodaya Ration Cards were eligible for the scheme and instructed the officials to select a total of 6,322 beneficiaries in the first phase after consultations with the respective MLAs by the end of November. The beneficiaries have to pay Rs. 4,040 for the new LPG connection which includes Rs. 1,450 as LPG cylinder deposit, Rs. 150 towards regulator deposit, Rs. 190 for Suraksha Hosepipe, Rs.50 for DGC book, Rs. 100 for inspection and installation, Rs. 1,000 for two-burner gas stove, Rs. 1,100 for two full cylinders. District Administration has selected 174 beneficiaries from Mysuru, 33 from H.D. Kote, 2,187 in K.R. Nagar, 3 in Hunsur, 952 from Periyapatna and 2,972 from T.Narasipur.

Stating that he has written a letter to Union HRD Minister Prakash Javadekar seeking CBI investigation into the alleged irregularities at both the Varsities in Mysuru, Madhusudan rued that lakhs of students were suffering because of Deve Gowda and Siddharamaiah's partnership politics.

Taking a dig at Rangappa (a ticket aspirant), Madhusudan asked the ex-VC to stop dreaming about JD(S)-Congress coalition government coming to power in the next Assembly elections and him adorning the chair of Higher Education Minister.

Madhusudan also took a dig at Basavaraj Rayareddy, calling him an unfit Higher Education Minister, before terming both KSOU former VCs Prof. K.S. Rangappa and Prof. M.G. Krishnan as cheats.

This seized bike has two different registration numbers and 76 cases!

Mysuru, Nov. 6 (KS) - The K.R. Police, who conducted 'Operation Cheetah' on Chamundi Hill Road here yesterday, stopped a Pulsar bike for checking and found that the bike had two different registration number plates.

While the front registration plate had the number KA-55 U- 885, the rear registration plate bore the number KA-55 U-85. When the cops asked the rider, identified as Ziaulla of Kalyangiri, to produce the documents, he failed to produce relevant documents following which the Police came to a conclusion that the numbers plates were fake.

The Police then checked through their Blackberry devise and came to know that the registration number KA-55-U-885 was of a different vehicle and the owner was different.

As Ziaulla had 76 traffic violation cases, the owner of the vehicle with the registration number KA-55-U-885 had been served with 76 notices.

Though Ziaulla told the Police that he would pay the fines for all 76 cases, the cops, who did not receive the fines, have taken Ziaulla into custody for questioning.

The Police are now planning to summon the original owner of the vehicle with registration number KA-55-U-885 and take a letter stating that his vehicle's registration number had been misused and then file a case against Ziaulla.

K.R. Police, who have taken up the investigation, has launched a hunt to trace the original owner.

Wandering high into the mountains...

Mysuru, Nov.6 (SV)- When teenagers are engaged in electronic gadgets and applications like WhatsApp, Facebook etc, here is a thirteen-year-old girl Riya Solanki (pursuing Eighth Grade in Manasarowar Pushkarini Vidyashrama) who wanders high into the mountains.

It all started at the age of 8, when she went on a summit at Mt. Surya in 2013 and since then she has not looked back and has been conquering mountains. She has been to many summits such as Mt.Saurkundi Pass (2014), Mt. Rumtu (2015), Mt. Kedarkanta (2016) and Mt. Tundda Bhuja (2017).

This time she dared to go to the Everest Base camp at a height of 17500 feet in Himalayas (Nepal). Riya Solanki says, "It was haunting her since the past two years when she used to follow a TV Series 'Everest' on Star Plus, but after seeing the movie 'Everest' she made up her mind that she should at least go to the Everest base camp and aspire further".

A team of nine people from the States of Karnataka, Kerala and Telangana left for Kathmandu on Oct.14, and were later joined by seventeen people from Maharashtra and Delhi on Oct.15. On Oct.16, an aircraft carried them to Lukla Airport, which is one of the most vulnerable and dangerous airports in the world. On Oct.17, the team went for an acclimatisation walk and later treated themselves to a local cuisine made by Sidar family at Lukla village.

On Oct. 18, they set forth for the destination Everest Base Camp; they walked around 9 kms to reach Phadaking, then trekked about 8 kms to Namache Bazar. She adds that though it was a festive time at home, she went to see the world outside and it was a fantabulous experience in Nepal. They celebrated "Tihar" which is meant as Deepavali at Namache Bazaar with the Iron Man Milind Soman and crew. On Oct. 22, they trekked to Dingaboche, which is at a distance of 10kms from Debuche and stayed for two days for getting acclimatised to the conditions. On Oct.24, they trekked to Lobuche which is about 7 kms, with a recorded temperature of minus 5 degrees and on Oct.25, they trekked to the Gorakshep and found a Maharaja Shivaji Memorial constructed by Giripremi of Pune.

After trekking for more than 60kms on Maroons, ridges, boulders, landslides region, hanging bridges, cold paths, crossing various mountains, they finally came to Khumbhu Glacier and the Everest Base camp which is at a height of about 17,500 feet in Hindu Himalaya Kindgom in Nepal.

Riya, daughter of D.S.D. Solanki, Founder Trustee of Tiger Adventure Foundation, narrates it was a very emotional moment to all of us. She said, "A rare incident I noticed was, I saw a citizen of USA who is a native of Gujarat became so emotional that he cried and he said this was the moment he was waiting as he immersed the ashes of his mother at the Everest base camp."

The team members from the Karnataka, Kerala and Telangana were D.S.D. Solanki, Riya Solanki, D.P. Shreekanth Jain, Raghavendra Rao Kashinath Narayan, Sridevi Champati, (Telangana) Shaji Mathew, Benny Mathew, and (Kerala) Tara Muniyappa .The programme was coordinated by Ambarish Joshi of Nagpur.

Indian eves win Hockey Asia Cup

Kakamigahara (Japan), Nov. 6- Indian women's hockey team created history as they beat China in a tense shootout to lift the Women's Asia Cup after 13 years, while qualifying for next year's women's World Cup as Continental Champions, in Japan's Kakamigahara Kawasaki Stadium, yesterday.

It was Indian skipper Rani Rampal who scored the winning goal for India, while Savita Punia made a great save in sudden death to ensure India the 5-4 score in the penalty shootout.

Earlier, it was Navjot Kaur who scored India's lone goal in the 25th minute. It was in 2004 when Indian Women's Team lifted the Asia Cup after beating Japan 1-0 in the final. In the penalty shootout, Rani scored twice while Monica, Lilima Minz and Navjot scored a goal each to ensure India reclaimed the Asia Cup title after 13 years. Savita was adjudged goalkeeper of the tournament while Monica won woman of the match award.

It is a sweet double for both Indian men and women as they are crowned Asia Cup Champions this year. The victorious Indian women's team will arrive home on Nov. 6.

WORD OF THE DAY

Apodictic

Pronunciation: ap-uh-DIK-tik
Meaning: Expressing or of the nature of necessary truth or absolute certainty.
Origin: Apodictic is a word for those who are confident about that of which they speak. It's a handy word that can describe a conclusive concept, a conclusive person, or even that conclusive person's conclusive remarks. A well-known close relative of apodictic is paradigm ("an outstandingly clear or typical example"); both words are built on Greek deiknynai, meaning "to show." More distant relatives (from Latin dicere, a relative of deiknynai that means "to say") include diction, dictate, edict, and predict.

THE ODD WORD

Widdershins
In a left-handed or contrary direction; counter clockwise.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Handle with kid gloves

Meaning: Handle a situation, or a person or an object, delicately and gingerly.
Origin: Kid gloves are, of course, gloves made from the skin of a young goat. They were clearly not intended for use when you were pruning the hedge and wearing kid gloves was the sartorial equivalent of pale white skin, that is, it indicated that the wearer was rich enough to indulge in a life of genteel indoor idleness.
The earliest mentions of kid gloves are from England in the 1730s and the following is a typical report of a wealthy gentleman, laid out in his 'Sunday best', from Bagnall's News, in The Ipswich Journal, December 1734:
The Corpse of Mr. Thorp, A Distiller in Soho, who died a few Days since, said to be worth £10000 was put into his Coffin, quilted within with white Sattin; and after several yards of fine Holland [best-quality linen] were wrapt about his Body... on his Head was a Cap of the same Holland tied with a white Ribbond; he has about his Neck two Yards of Cambrick; a Cambrick Handkerchief between his Hands, on which he had a pair of white Kid Gloves: and in this manner he lay in state some Days and was afterwards buried in Buckinghamshire.
In fact, the description 'kid-gloved' came to be used as an insult, implying a lack of manhood, as was recorded in The Leicester Chronicle in January 1842: This contraband system of political allusions appears to suit the taste and nerves of the cautious, gentlemanly, kid-gloved Conservatism, which cannot endure the shock of attending a public meeting.
It was only when the expression (and presumably also, the gloves) crossed the Atlantic that the negative connotations were lost and 'handling (or treating) with kid gloves' began to be used as we use it today, that is with the meaning 'delicately; carefully.'

QUOTE BOX

It takes an endless amount of history to make even a little tradition.

'My Job' app launched in city

Mysuru, Nov.6 (SP&NNN)- The growing unemployment and job losses is a cause for grave concern in the country. To fight this trend, the Karnataka Vedike has come out with creative solutions by launching 'My Job,' mobile App, on Friday at Pathrakartara Bhavan here.

Speaking after the launch, Vedike leader Somashekar Chalya said that detailed information regarding job opportunities and job vacancies is available on this App. This app is very safe, secure and user-friendly. The unemployment rate is increasing in the State and leaders at the Centre and in the State before holding the reins of power promised jobs to the youths of the country.

However, the promises made have remained empty. In this background, 'My Job' app has been released for the benefit of both the unemployed and the jobless, he said.

This app has not only information about jobs vacant in Government Departments but also wherever there are jobs available in the State, how to apply for jobs and other information relating to it, he said.

The app also has other uses. If the people are facing workplace harassments from their bosses or if the contract, daily wage labourers, and those drawing scholarships are facing problems, then they can give a missed call to mobile No. 82872-14422 and the Vedike Members will take up the cause, said Chalya. There is Youth Conference being held on Feb. 4, 2018 in Bengaluru and the youth can register their names for the event, he said.

Vedike Secretary T.K. Harshakumar, Guruprasad, Pushpalatha, L.K. Divya and Santosh were present during the press meet.
